

Please leave Indiana's telephone privacy laws alone. We now receive no "junk" calls in the evening when we used to receive 3 or 4. After working each day, my husband and I would rather spend time with our two children than answer the phone only to find out that it is a call we don't even want. These people will sometimes not even hang up and you have to hang up on them. Our family life has been better since Indiana implemented laws to keep those unwanted calls away.
